IS IT HOTEL OVERLOAD?

• An artist's impression of the Didcot Gateway plans

• Plans for Didcot A Power Station

• Designs for the hotel at Milton Gate

DIDCOT councillors have raised doubts over whether the town will be able to build and maintain three proposed hotels as part of the town's development.

With the town set to get an eight-storey hotel at Didcot Gateway, a luxury, four-star hotel at Milton Park and a hotel on the site of the Didcot A Power Station, councillors believe that the plans need to be addressed before construction goes ahead.

Didcot town councillor and member of South Oxfordshire District Council's planning committee, Margaret Davies, said: "In my honest opinion, I don't think there will be three hotels. "The Didcot Gateway project really needs to get a move on. There's been no planning application and it is imperative that the project moves rapidly."

The £60million Didcot Gateway plans include shops, leisure facilities, flats and a hotel to be built opposite Didcot Parkway station.

However, despite the plans being unveiled in January this year, there has yet to be an outline planning application for the project, which would also involve the demolition of the Prince of Wales pub.

Didcot town councillor Bill Service said: "With all these hotels moving to Didcot, I'm worried if there will be enough business to keep them all running."

"Didcot Gateway needs to be discussed. There is a huge amount of money being spent on it and there is no Plan B for it - it has to succeed."

There are also doubts about the success of building a hotel on the Didcot A Power Station site.

Plans for a hotel, in addition to 400 homes, a restaurant and shops to be built on the site, were submitted last Monday.

Didcot Town Council leader Charlie Robertson said he would prefer a school on the site instead of another hotel.

London council looks to buy Vale mansion

A LONDON borough council has put in a bid on a £1.25million property in Kennington to give free holidays to "families at risk of breakdown".

Hackney District Council applied to Vale of White Horse District Council to change the function of the Bagley Hill Road property on May 7.

Spokesperson Nicola Quinn said: "Hackney Council recently received funding from the Department for Education Innovation Fund to run a programme to help children and families who would benefit from some structured time away from home.

"It is a voluntary programme with parents and, where appropriate, foster carers joining the children and taking part in a programme of learning and support.

"It is primarily aimed at children in care or families at risk of breakdown, with a maximum of three families staying for short periods.

"We think this location is ideal as it will give the families involved the opportunity to spend time together away from their homes in a tranquil location with plenty of space that is still a commutable distance from London."

The Department for Education has given £2m to the local authority from its Innovation Fund for providing the service.

Dinti and Matthew Batstone of Bagley Wood Road have submitted their comments to the Vale, which read: "The loss of one large family unit of residential occupation is contrary to Vale of White Horse's Local Plan requirements to increase the

• Up to three families at a time could stay in the mansion supply of housing in the council's area.

"Neighbouring properties will suffer a loss of privacy and amenity due to the number of transient occupants."

However Jo Lees posted on a Kennington community Facebook group, which said: "We need to invest more in giving families tools to use to strengthen their bonds rather than vilify them when something goes wrong."

District councillor for Kennington and Radley, Edward Blagrove, declined to comment on the application.

No decision has yet been made by the district council, but they have given a target date for a decision as July 2.

Baby badger rescued from swimming pool

A BABY badger - thought to be only a few months old - was rescued from a six-foot deep swimming pool by RSPCA inspectors after becoming trapped.

The young badger was spotted curled up sleeping at the bottom of the pool in Tumbledown near Cumnor on June 13.

There were no steps or other way into the pool, so the badger is believed to have fallen in.

It is not known how long he had been there but it is thought it was at least one night.

The RSPCA were called and were able to lift him out using a cage attached to a hook.

RSPCA inspector Jaimie Godfrey who attended the scene said: "Unfortunately for this little badger the pool had no water in it, which meant he had quite some fall.

"There was no way that he could have made his way out of walls that steep without help.

"It was a pretty delicate operation, but I managed to very carefully lower the cage over him as he slept, covered with a towel, and slipped a plastic box beneath."

She continued: "It did make things easier that he was drowsy, as it was daytime, and he may very likely have been scrambling to escape for most of the night."

Man charged

DIDCOT: A man has been charged with filming up women's skirts at Royal Ascot.

The 44-year-old man from Didcot was arrested following allegations of public indecency.

The man has been released on police bail and will appear before magistrate's court in Slough, Berkshire, in July.

Police said he was one of eight people arrested during the last day of racing at Royal Ascot on Saturday.

First timetable

OXFORD: Chiltern Railways has given residents a glimpse of the planned timetable for the Oxford Parkway to London line.

The line, which comes into use from October 26, will see two new fast trains per hour throughout the day between Oxford and London, with a journey time of under an hour.

There will be three departures from Oxford Parkway to London Marylebone before 7am and a key commuter train at 7.24am will take 56 minutes, stopping once at Bicester Village station.

The timetable is available for people to view on the website: chilternrailways.co.uk/oxford-timetable.

Woman raped

DEDDINGTON: A woman was raped in a churchyard in Deddington on Sunday after the end of the village's festival.

The 25-year-old was found by a passer-by at St Peter and Paul Church in Church Street at 00.20am.

It was the last night of the 10-day Deddington Festival.

The village, between Bicester and Banbury, hosted a family fun day and live music show called Deddington Rocks on Saturday from 2pm until 11pm in Market Square.

Superintendent Kath Lowe, LPA Commander for Cherwell and West Oxfordshire, said patrols had been stepped up.

'Monster' raped children

• 'Monster' Clifford Godden, 72, of Blackditch.

A MAN has been labelled a 'monster' by police after he was sentenced to 18 years in jail for a string of sexual offences against children, including rape.

Clifford Godden, 72, of Blackditch, Stanton Harcourt, near Witney, was found guilty by a unanimous jury of twenty counts of sexual offences at Oxford Crown Court yesterday following a seven-day trial.

Investigating officer, Det Con Kelly Gilbert of the Child Abuse Investigation Unit, said: "Thankfully this monster is behind bars where he belongs. The victims are genuine and honest people who desperately wanted to be free of the feelings of shame and fear this man put them through."

Godden was convicted of four counts of rape, eleven counts of indecent assaults, one count of attempted rape, and four counts of sexual intercourse with a girl under 13.

Godden was arrested by Thames Valley Police on May 6 last year and was charged with the offences on August 21 last year.

Stroke victims rally together for support

DIDCOT'S stroke victims have come together to begin their 'new lives' in a community group.

Since last September, Didcot residents that have suffered strokes have been meeting fortnightly to discuss how their strokes have impacted their lives.

Stroke Club, whose first group was formed in Abingdon in September 2012, are looking for more Didcot residents to come tell their stories.

Chairman and co-founder Brendan Kehoe, 55, from Abingdon, said: "It's incredible what we've built here."

"When you suffer a stroke, you fear your life is going to be over but what we find is that your lives don't end, it's just your new life beginning."

Brendan suffered a stroke when he was 51, and after meeting co-founder Gary Gill, the duo looked to help make a difference for stroke sufferers.

He added: "We're all about helping each other out and enjoying ourselves."

"We just want to make a difference for the people here."

The group's age range is from 18 to 69 and they are aiming to support people particularly in their 30s and 40s who they say often do not get enough help or support.

loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Will Stammers, 40, from Didcot, who acts as the Didcot group's co-ordinator, said: "When you get a stroke, it turns your life completely upside down and you think the world you know has gone forever."

"However, meeting people to talk about it and embrace what your life has become really helps - it helps you carry on life with

The group meets at the Prince of Wales, in Station Road in Didcot, once every fortnight on Tuesdays.

The pub manager, David Rolin, 37, from Didcot, said: "I'm more than happy to have them here, they provide such a good cause."

"Everyone knows someone in their family that have suffered strokes so this community that they are organising is perfect to help people cope with it all."

The Prince of Wales are also organising a Beach Party event to raise money for the charity on July 25.

Get behind us!

DIDCOT: Didcot Town FC's new commercial manager is urging local businesses to the support the club over the coming season.

Mike Foster, the past president of Didcot Chamber of Commerce, is asking for Didcot's businesses and people to get behind the club.

The announcement comes after Didcot Town FC confirmed that Draycott Engineering are set to be the club's main sponsor for the coming season.

More homes

STEVENTON: Two separate applications to build 57 new homes in the north east of Steventon and 65 homes in the north west of the village have been approved by Vale of White Horse District Council.

The 57 homes would be situated on Abingdon Road and will include car parking and the relocation of the Old Farmhouse Baker to a purpose-built facility.

The other 65 will be on land near Barnett Road adjoining houses in Hanney Road and Field Gardens.

Tudor banquet

DIDCOT: Didcot Christmas Street Fair's team are hosting a Tudor Banquet at the Didcot Conservative Club this September.

The event is to help fundraise for the year's street fair in December, with guests greeted with cider on arrival ahead of a 'real Tudor feast'.

Concerns over three proposed hotels

• From front page

Cllr Robertson said: "I think we need a school on the site to accommodate the homes, and in the long run this would allow the Didcot Gateway hotel to prosper as it's better suited for the town's infrastructure for it to succeed."

Didcot has one Premier Inn hotel near Milton Park by the Milton Interchange.

Cllr Service added: "I have issues with the power station plan as I felt there needed to be more public consultation on the project."

"We needed a Q&A with the town."

James Hicks, principal planner at consultants Pegasus who are working on the Didcot A project, said: "We didn't hold a Q&A for the project as we received a warm response from the people of Didcot as part of the consultation."

He added: "Didcot is key for the future of Oxfordshire and is a site where there is great potential."

A target decision date on the power station plans was set for next February, with the developers hoping to start construction by 2017.

Didcot is also set to see a futuristic-looking 145-room, four-star hotel built at Milton Gate, which looks to target guests at Milton Park.

Acquisition of the land required for the hotel was approved on April 1.

Celebrating culture with the Oxford Arts Festival

LAST Saturday saw the opening of the Oxford Arts Festival, with a range of musical acts and performers.

The festival has been organised by Magdalen College School and will see a range of cultural and artistic activities throughout the city during the next two weeks.

Celebrations took place in Bonn Square with a performance from Cherwell Brass Band, as well as dancing, face painting and balloon modelling.

Saturday will also offer a range of activities including a talk from activist Shami Chakrabarti.

The human rights campaigner and the director of the organisation Liberty will be giving a talk on her new book 'On Liberty' at the Festival Marquee on the Magdalen College School campus at 5pm.

She said: "The arts have always been instrumental in delivering new ideas to new audiences and the festival excels in making complex causes accessible."

"It is a privilege to highlight our fundamental rights and freedoms at such a wonderful cultural celebration."

There will also be a medieval day at Oxford Castle on Saturday that hopes to explore the city's cultural routes with battle re-enactments from the Medieval Siege Society, or visitors can try their hand at stonemasonry or woodcarving.

Special guest Roger Hunt, the co-author of Old House Eco Handbook, will also be staging a workshop.

He said: "Helping people understand and appreciate heritage through events like Oxford's Medieval Day is vital at a time when we need to ensure our old buildings are sustainable for the future."

"I'm keen to explain ways that homes can be made more energy efficient without losing the character and history that makes them special."

Tickets for the medieval day are

• Visitors enjoyed face painting and balloon modelling

£15, and the day will start at 10am.

This will be the seventh Oxford Arts Festival and will see a number of local sites opening their doors including the Oxford Playhouse, the Ashmolean Museum and Christ Church Picture Gallery.

The festival will run until July 5 and will conclude with the Cowley Road Festival.

A quarter of adults fear for local children

MORE than a quarter of Oxford adults are concerned for the safety of a child in their neighbourhood, according to a new study.

A survey conducted by charity Action for Children found that 27 per cent of adults quizzed were very or quite worried about the welfare of a child living in their area.

Nationwide 2,500 adults and 2,500 children were surveyed, with 45 adult respondents and 50 child respondents from Oxford.

A quarter of the children and young people in Oxford surveyed said they were also worried about whether or not another child was being looked after properly at home.

The study also found that 20 per cent of adults did not report these fears because of the risk of repercussions to the people involved or themselves if they were mistaken.

Operational director of children's services at Action for Children, Laurie Long, said: "Friends, neighbours, the owner of a local corner shop – these individuals within a community can be crucial to a child's safety by acting on their concerns."

"While our figures suggest an encouraging public awareness of child neglect, it is a scandal that people simply don't know what to do when they think a child is not being cared for or where to go to raise the alarm that a child in their street may be in serious danger."

"Neglect is our biggest problem, the number one reason for child protection referrals to social services, but there is no vision to tackle it."

He continued: "To protect more children, we need a national strategy to command political and public support for change: only this commitment from the Government will truly change children's lives."

Oxfordshire treated to Northern Lights

By Alex Ballinger

alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

PHOTOGRAPHERS and science enthusiasts were treated to a spectacular display of Aurora Borealis - also known as the Northern Lights - in Oxfordshire this week.

The natural phenomenon is caused by the interaction between solar wind - sun charged particles from the sun - and our planet's atmosphere and magnetic field.

Amateur astronomer and astrophotographer Mary Spicer, 42, captured this photograph from Tackley, North Oxfordshire, along with a time-lapse video between 12.40am and 2.10 am on Wednesday morning.

She said: "I've photographed aurora five times from Oxfordshire in the past 18 months but this was the brightest display by far, and was clearly visible to the naked eye."

"Aurora was visible from around 12.46am once the cloud cleared and remained visible until we packed up at 2.30am."

"We went out with our cam-

• Mary Spicer's picture of the Northern Lights, as seen from Oxfordshire eras and had to wait for 90 minutes for the cloud to clear, but when it did the whole sky was dancing with aurora.

"We could see a green glow low down, but higher up we could see grey pillars, which were moving across the sky and reaching really high."

"We are used to seeing the brightly coloured aurora photos, but the human eye doesn't see it in those colours."

"To the naked eye mostly everything looks like a greyish green or greyish white."

"It's only when you point the camera at it that you see those bright colours. This is by far the best display I've seen."

This aurora was caused by a sustained solar flare in the days prior, which caused a major geomagnetic storm.

Most auroras are usually visible much further north, particularly in Greenland or Iceland.

However larger and faster eruptions from the surface of the sun can mean auroras are visible much further south.

Wednesday's aurora was visible as far south as Selsey, West Sussex, on the south coast.

AuroraWatch UK issued an amber alert for last night, which means aurora was likely to be visible from Scotland, northern England and Northern Ireland.

Oxfordshire MP elected to chair government committee

OXFORD West and Abingdon MP Nicola Blackwood has been elected to chair the government select committee for science and technology.

The committee aims to ensure government decision-making and policies are informed by scientific and engineering advice and evidence.

Ms Blackwood said: "I am delighted to have been elected as chair of the science and technology select committee."

"This committee sits at the interface between politicians, the public and the science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM) community on some of the most controversial decisions facing us today - it will be a key committee in the 2015-20 parliament."

"I look forward to colleagues being elected to the committee over the coming weeks so that we can press ahead with determining our immediate priorities."

Ms Blackwood was elected after winning 279 of 587 votes cast under the alternative vote system, which sees the candidate with the lowest number of votes struck off and their votes redistributed.

£21k fine for illegal waste

By Alexander Ballinger

alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

TWO Oxfordshire men have been fined a total of £21,000 for illegally dumping 3,000 tonnes of illegal waste at a farm in Bampton.

Francis Stewart-Wood of Black Bourton, the director and landowner of Elmwood Farm and Aylesbury Mushrooms (Farms) Ltd, and Stephen Radband of Fox Close, Bampton and director of SJ Radband Haulage, were sentenced at Oxford Crown Court on June 18.

The Environment Agency (EA) said Stewart-Wood misdescribed 3,000 tonnes of controlled waste as a growing medium compost at his mushroom farm in order to avoid higher disposal fees.

The waste crime enforcement officer for the Environment Agency, Ian Finnegan, said: "We take a zero tolerance approach to companies who misdescribe their waste and deposit it illegally."

"It puts the public and the environment at risk, as well as costing the taxpayer and honest businesses."

• The 'trommel fines' waste that was dumped.

"We are currently working with other enforcement agencies including Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs to stop this continuing illegal behaviour."

Stewart-Wood was fined £10,000 and his company Aylesbury Mushroom Farms Ltd £4,000.

They were also ordered to pay a contribution of £2,000 each towards their own prosecution.

Radband was punished as his haulage company failed to exercise due diligence in ensuring that the waste known as 'trommel fines' was correctly described.

He was fined £1,600 and ordered to pay £2,000 in costs.

The EA discovered the illegal dumping on June 15 after receiving reports of a lorry thought to be containing waste entering a farm gate near Bampton.

'Trommel fines' is the name given to waste left over after a mechanical process that separates different types of waste at a processing facility.

It often has high soil and plastic content and should be disposed of in a landfill designed to contain hazardous materials.

The waste was deposited on Stewart-Wood's farm but originally came from London based waste operator Powerday, who pleaded guilty to related offences and will be sentenced later this year.

In April 2014 waste hauler Fred Sherwood and Sons pleaded guilty to failing in their duty of care and were fined £27,000 and ordered to pay £3,000 costs by Oxford Magistrates' court.

Home upgrades of £21m for city council tenants

COUNCIL tenants in Oxford are set to have their homes improved under a new £21.3m refurbishment scheme.

Oxford City Council approved the 'Oxford Standard' for housing last December after consultations with tenants.

Improvements will be made to 7,800 homes including to kitchens, bathrooms, home security and the installation of solar panels in homes across the city.

Scott Seamons, the council's board member for housing and property services, said: "Our new asset management strategy shows how committed we are to providing high quality homes for our tenants."

He added: "We are raising the standard of housing in the city beyond the level recommended by the government."

"The home repairs we propose to carry out tie in with the council's broader regeneration strategy that is already underway."

"For instance, we've committed more than £20m to the refurbishment of the 1970s tower blocks on our estates across the city.

"We're also moving forward with the regeneration of Blackbird Leys centre, along with the construction of more affordable housing on the estate."

The Oxford Standard exceeds the government recommended 'Decent Homes Standard' and will see the council replace kitchens every 20 years and bathrooms every 25 years.

Bathrooms will be fitted with baths showers and extractor fans, while kitchens will be given modern appliances and a supply of both gas and electricity.

The council will also install and maintain fencing and gates on alleys around homes.

Public spaces on housing estates will also be given more parking and external lighting.

The improvements have already started on an area-by-area basis and tenants will be given information about when and where repairs will happen.

Cloudy2Clear Windows - Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes - not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director James Miller feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is rusted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps."

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which in a way is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service Oxfordshire from their local depots and James is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give James a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Morrisons in jeopardy

PLANS for a Morrisons store in Wallingford are in jeopardy after the site went up for sale.

But town leaders are hoping that another supermarket chain will come forward to takeover the plans to build a new store east of the Hithercroft industrial estate.

The supermarket chain confirmed today their proposals for a store in Lipton Road are 'under review'.

The site was listed for sale by property company Rapleys last week.

Wallingford town councillor, Ros Lester said: "It's such a shame and what's worse is that Wallingford needs another supermarket with all these homes we're getting."

The town's only supermarket is Waitrose in St Martin's Street.

Morrisons had been granted planning permission for the store in July 2013, which was estimated to create 300 jobs.

But town leaders were left frustrated when building work was delayed.

The supermarket chain filed an appeal to SODC planning officers in October last year objecting to several conditions which it would have had to follow - including above average build standards.

But the appeal was later withdrawn.

SODC leader John Cotton argued the shop should be built to BREEAM's (Building Research Establishment Environment Assessment Method) 'excellent' standard, rather than 'very good' standards outline in the plans.

loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Cllr Lester added: "Well we can blame that for the fact that the site's gone up for sale, there were so many things put in their way and we knew Morrisons were struggling, so it's no surprise it's all fell apart."

But Cllr Cotton said: "The conditions we added have absolutely nothing to do with this, we have had this feeling for some time that Morrisons were not going to commit."

"It's disappointing because Wallingford desperately needs a second supermarket, everybody needs a choice."

Morrisons's spokesperson Sarah Atta said: "It's in review and selling the site is one of the options."

"We are looking at potential interest that we can generate and we do not know how long the review is set to last."

She also stated the review also includes a number of nationwide stores.

Morrisons last month managed to increase its sales for the first time in more than a year.

She added: "We appreciate the community is keen to see the site progress and we will be in a position to provide an update once we have concluded our review."

The store was set to have 310 parking spaces and a petrol station.

OXFORD'S famous Cowley Road Carnival will be sponsored by MINI Plant Oxford for the tenth year in a row.

The renowned festival on July 5 is expecting 45,000 people to head to East Oxford in its 15th year.

A parade will include around 700 dancers and performers while several stages host a variety of shows.

Frank Bachmann, managing director of MINI Plant Oxford said: "We are delighted to sponsor one of the most vibrant celebrations of Oxford's varied cultures."

"We hope people from all ages, backgrounds and cultures enjoy the fantastic day out."

Danielle Battigelli, executive director of charity organisers Cowley Road Works, said: "we are absolutely delighted that the plant is continuing to support the festival for its 10th year."

Oxford Brookes University and The Patsy Wood Trust will also be sponsoring the event, though the details of their deals are being kept confidential.

Oxford City Council has contributed £30,000 towards the festivities with Cowley Road Works raising over £80,000 of its £120,000 target.

The carnival will kick off at Midday.

Free-running Spider-Max seals major Hollywood role

Watch the video at

• Max Webb with his trainer Joe Scandrett

A SUPER-TALENTED free-running Oxford boy has landed himself a role in a major Hollywood blockbuster.

Max Webb, 12, from Headington, is shooting as a stunt double for the main character and another a role that requires him to wear a motion-capture suit in an upcoming blockbuster on a set in London.

But he is under strict orders not to name the film.

The Cheney School pupil caught the eye of the director through Max's free running club 3Run, based in Basingstoke.

Max told the Guardian: "It's so fun and I can't believe that I'm doing it, they make the sets look so real."

"When I'm in the suit, I feel amazing. It's one of the highlights of my life so far and my friends are all really happy for me and keep asking me lots of questions about it."

Max's dad Vince, 49, said: "Max learned to climb before he learned to walk - he's always wanted to be a stuntman."

"I'm seriously proud of him,

I knew that he was different and if I'm honest I didn't think he would be doing films at his age but when I visit the set, it all just looks absolutely spectacular."

The young stuntman first discovered the sport 18 months ago from watching online videos, and became obsessed with it.

After testing himself at street dance company Messy Jam, based in Oxford, he was recommended for 3Run by dance teacher Elisha Peart, from Barton.

Elisha said: "I think it's awesome that he's doing so well. I had him as a young dancer and now he just has no fear about doing anything."

"We call him Spider-Max here because he's so fearless."

Vince believes Elisha's training is the reason why Max is where he is now, and said: "She's been absolutely amazing for him. If it wasn't for her, he wouldn't be appearing in blockbusters, its full credit to her."

Since arriving at 3Run, Max has excelled in the sport and is now about to reach level four in his free-running grading, the highest standard.

He trains two nights a week with 3Run before dedicating most of his Saturday to training with the club's elite stunt team.

Vince, who watches Max every single time he's in action, said that 'he is an awe' of his son and that he's seen him jump between buildings.

Max has set his sights on appearing in bigger Hollywood blockbuster franchises in the future and said: "My dream is to be in a Fast and Furious film, or in James Bond!"

Bicester water bill hikes investigation is launched

THAMES Water has launched an investigation after some residents in Bicester found their bills had more than quadrupled over the space of a year.

Angry residents from Langford Village took to Facebook to discuss the unexpected rise in recent water bills.

One of those was Sian Warner, who posted the original comment on Facebook.

Her bill increased from £81 for six months to £357 for the same period.

The 50-year-old said: "We opened the bill on Sunday night and then I made the original post on Facebook, and it just spring-boarded from there."

"There were 281 comments last time I checked."

"It doesn't sound like it's been

By Alex Ballinger

alex@taylornewspapers.co.uk

resolved. I know a few people have been fobbed off."

Cherwell district councillor for Bicester South Dan Sames was also hit by the price increase.

He has since received a phone call from Thames Water's chief executive office to say they are aware of the issue and are launching a large-scale investigation.

Cllr Sames said: "These are grossly inflated prices but there are some cases where people have had their direct debits reduced, there is no logic to it."

"I think Thames Water need to actually admit there is a problem."

"We shouldn't be running around to solve their mistake."

Thames Water has now confirmed to the Guardian that a full investigation is underway.

Peter Cogan, Thames Water's director of customer operations, said: "We're very sorry to customers who have been affected by the meter reading problems."

"We supply nine million customers with water, and read 300,000 meters a month - and can reassure all of them that situations like this are extremely unusual."

"We're carrying out a thorough investigation and will get in touch with all of the customers affected within the next two weeks."

Spokesperson for Thames Water Sarah Sharpe added: "We're in the middle of an investigation, processing hundreds of customer records to make sure we've identified everyone with an issue."

"We have a team dedicated to working on finding this out."

"We haven't extended our investigation yet but if we notice trends in other postcodes we will do the same thing as in Langford and investigate the meter readings."

She continued: "We are going through all the meter readings from Langford in 2014 and checking customer accounts for contrasting levels of usage."

Councils seek help for its new homelessness strategy

RESIDENTS in parts of Oxfordshire are being asked for their opinions on how to deal with homelessness in the county.

South Oxfordshire and Vale of White Horse district councils are holding a consultation to hear the suggestions of residents for tackling homelessness.

Cabinet member for housing at South Oxfordshire District Council, Elizabeth Gillespie, said: "We are very keen to put this homelessness strategy into place in order to prevent this unacceptable state."

"We are all too aware of the devastation it can cause."

The consultation will last until July 14, and the councils are encouraging residents to let them know their priorities for confronting the issue.

The councils currently have a strategy to reduce homelessness for the next five years that includes increasing access to homes and expanding community outreach work.

Over three years from 2011 to 2014 homelessness increased from 93 people seeking shelter to 106, and the cost of housing homeless people increased by £100,000.

Their current strategy focuses on the affordability of housing in the county.

Roger Cox, cabinet member for housing at Vale of White Horse District Council, added: "The key to tackling homelessness is to focus on prevention."

"There is much that we can do to support people threatened with homelessness and the sooner we know about the problems the more effective our assistance can be."

• Homelessness rose by 14 per cent from 2011 to 2014

Budget surplus

OXON: Oxfordshire County Council underspent on last year's budget by £196,000.

Final budget figures released by the council last week showed the total spend was £423.99m, as opposed to the £424.19m planned.

The news comes in the wake of threats to children's centres in Oxfordshire as the council tries to make £6m in savings.

Savings of £284m are planned by 2018 and there are further cuts expected next year.

Q&A supper

OXFORD: Money-saving expert Martin Lewis will be meeting Oxford residents at a charity midsummer supper in aid of a family support charity.

Martin will be at the Slug and Lettuce at Oxford Castle on June 25 where he will take part in a Q&A session to raise funds for Parents and Children Together (PACT).

Uni open days

OXFORD: Traffic warnings have been issued in the city as 10,000 students flock to Oxford University for its two open days.

The open days will be held on July 1 and 2.

Despite this there are likely to be further delays in the city with extra congestion caused by work in Frideswide Square.

JEFFERY~WEST

Question?

What do the film's "Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets" and "Lock Stock and 2 Smoking Barrels" have in common?

Well I will tell you, they both feature shoes designed by British Northampton based shoe designers Jeffery West.

For the shoes buffs out there who know their Northampton shoe history Jeffery West shoes are manufactured in the Joseph Cheaney shoe factory in the heart of Northampton, England, so are made with over 100 years of skills and knowledge passed down through the generations. Their contemporary shoes have won many prestigious awards from esteemed publications such as GQ and Draper.

Guy West, one half of the award winning duo (the other being Mark Jeffery) will be guesting in our Covered Market mens store in Oxford from 10.30am on 4th July 2015.

Obesity rises but teenage pregnancies have fallen

OBESITY among children in Oxfordshire has risen, a study carried out by Public Health England has revealed.

In the annual 'Child Health Profile' report published on Wednesday by the government health agency, it was found 7.3 per cent of children between the ages of four and five are obese, an increase from 6.4 per cent in 2014.

In addition, 17 per cent of children aged between 10 and 11 were found to be obese.

The report also found that there was a reduction in teenage pregnancies in girls under 18 with less than 1 per cent of girls under 18 giving birth between 2013 and 2014, similar to the national average.

The number of children hospitalised from binge drinking was also lower in the last three years than it was between 2006 to 2009 with only 42 reported incidents between 2011 to 2014. The report concluded that: "The health and wellbeing of children in Oxfordshire is generally better than the national average."

"The level of child poverty is better than the national average in Oxfordshire as is the rate of family homelessness."

Jobs boost for Botley Road supermarket

By Loughlan Campbell

loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

A NEW Waitrose store in the Botley Road is set to create a hundred more jobs than previously anticipated when it opens this Autumn.

Foundations for the new supermarket have been laid and the shop's steel frame is being built over the next few weeks.

It is due to open this Autumn with 150 parking spaces.

Up to 250 jobs have been created, 90 more than in outline plans in November 2013.

Greg Porter, branch manager for the new store, said: "We're pleased to be in a position to create a significant number of new jobs for local people and to invest in their training and future careers."

"We pride ourselves on ensuring our shops have a local identity and that starts with the staff we employ, so we're really looking forward to building our team and becoming part of the local community."

Those interested in a job can attend an open day at Oxford Town Hall on July 2.

The chain is working with Oxford's Jobcentre Plus to give interview opportunities for 30 positions via a government scheme that offers pre-job training, work experience, and a guaranteed job interview.

• A design for the store in Botley Road.

Oxford City Councillor for Osney, Susanna Pressel said: "I'm delighted to hear that more jobs will be created in this part of Oxford, especially since I believe Waitrose pays the living wage."

Botley Road is one of the most notoriously heavily congested roads in Oxford.

Cllr Pressel added: "I just hope that most of these employees will walk or cycle to work since we obviously don't want any extra traffic in Botley Road."

The available roles include full and part-time positions and cover roles including sales assistants, hospitality, and delivery drivers.

Plans for the supermarket, on the former derelict Halfords and MFI site, were granted in May last year.

Vale of White Horse District Council previously opposed the plans saying it could threaten the plans for Botley's West Way shopping centre, which were previously set to include a high street supermarket.

The West Way plans have since been withdrawn and are in the process of being revised.

The importance of vaccinating your pet

Sarah Packman
BVSc CertSAM
MRCVS, Larkmead
Vets

VACCINATING your dog or cat will reduce the chance of them catching a number of serious and occasionally fatal infectious diseases. Larkmead recommends that your pet receives a routine yearly health check and booster to help protect against the most common and the most serious diseases.

Routine Dog Vaccinations

Your dog's yearly booster provides protection against Distemper virus, Infectious hepatitis (Adenovirus), Parvovirus, Para influenza virus, and Leptospirosis. We also recommend that you include Kennel Cough in their vaccination regime, as it is a disease which, although rarely life threatening, has unpleasant symptoms and is becoming increasingly prevalent outside a kennel environment.

Parvovirus is a common, potentially fatal condition seen in dogs – especially puppies and we have seen cases at Larkmead Vets in the past month. It is spread via direct and indirect contact with other dogs, causing bloody diarrhoea and vomiting.

Leptospirosis is spread via the urine of rats, dogs and other mammals. It is a very common disease in unvaccinated dogs, especially in South Oxfordshire. It causes acute kidney and liver disease which without swift treatment is rapidly fatal

Kennel cough (canine infectious bronchitis) is the most common disease we see in dogs that can be prevented by vaccination. Kennel cough is a very infectious disease and can affect any dog – not just those who have been in kennels. It is a debilitating condition and our dogs can become very unwell and cough for up to 6 weeks.

Routine Cat Vaccinations

Your cat's routine yearly vaccination provides protection against: Feline viral rhinotracheitis (Herpes virus), Calici virus, Feline Panleucopenia virus, and Feline Leukaemia virus.

Cat flu causes respiratory symptoms which in severe cases may be fatal. In cats that survive, a good proportion develop a chronic condition where they can suffer with painful ulcers in the nasal passages and mouth for the rest of their life. Feline Leukaemia virus is commonly seen in the stray cat population which predisposes a cat to develop cancers and is the 2nd most common cause of death in cats under 4 years old after car accidents.

Dogs need a holiday too

BEING a nation renowned for our love of animals, it isn't surprising that many dog owners feel uncomfortable at the thought of going away and leaving their best friend behind, especially if kennels are not for them.

Wagging Tails provide a home from home boarding service where dogs stay with one of their carefully selected carers for their very own holiday. Their carers are experienced dog owners who are at home during the day to give the dogs the same warmth and comfort they get at home, along with plenty of exercise and playtime, plus they will only look after one family's dogs at a time.

This service is particularly popular for rescue dogs that may have spent many months in kennels waiting for their new owners. To return to a similar environment for their holiday may cause them stress after they have settled with a loving family.

Due to the popularity of this service, Wagging Tails are interested to hear from dog lovers wishing to join their team of carers.

If you think you could welcome a dog into your family or would like more information about their service, please

Don't forget your pets this Summer...

WITH the Summer months now here, we have holidays to enjoy and spending quality time with our nearest and dearest. One member of the family needs your attention too, so please remember your fluffy or scaly friend whoever he or she is this summer. When getting out and about with our pets we expose them to all kinds of nasty bugs and viruses, so it's a good time to consider it that time again, time to call the vet and book the annual inoculations? Maybe Fido has been suffering from anxiety lately and needs some new toys to play with, in which case your local pet supplies shops usually stock some intelligent toys to stimulate those with the lowest retention span. The Oxfordshire Guardian have been speaking to many local suppliers from Vets to more specialist animal stockists and pet grooming facilities and they all have lots to offer the smallest or tallest creature this Summer.

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called “boxes”, “blocks”, “regions”, or “sub-squares”) contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

“WHICH” report April 2014.

Independent hearing aid providers come out on top

According to a “WHICH” report carried out in March and April 2014 Independent hearing aid providers were rated as the most satisfactory compared to Boots, Amplifon, Specsavers and Hidden Hearing.

An independent hearing aid audiologist is able to prescribe hearing aids from all manufacturers and find the exact system to suit your needs and budget. However some of the high street hearing aid retailers are tied to specific manufacturers therefore giving a limited choice.

Buying a hearing aid system is not just about the cost of the aid itself, you are purchasing an on-going package and so other things to consider are:-

- Who is going to fit my hearing aids, and will I subsequently see the same person?
- What is the level of ongoing aftercare and support after your hearing aids have been fitted?
- Is the aftercare and support included in the price of the hearing aid system?
- What is the length of the manufacturers warranty?
- Can you trial the hearing system?
- What are the ongoing costs i.e. batteries and wax guards?

Beware, some companies offer free guides on hearing aids and follow these up with home visits. They are often lead generation companies who operate in a sales based way. They may sell your information on to other large hearing aid providers who will target you with mail and telephone calls to entice you to buy their hearing aid systems. The same can also be said for websites which appear to offer comparatively low priced hearing aids.

If you are thinking of purchasing a hearing system it is important to compare the cost with a like for like hearing aid system and what aftercare is included. If the aftercare is not included in the cost of the system then how much will it typically cost you over the life of your hearing aids.

It can take time to fit and adjust a hearing system correctly so that it is working to maximise your hearing. Without a professional, attentive fitting, and programming by an experienced audiologist and a reliable aftercare service in place it is possible that your hearing aids will end up in a drawer somewhere because they failed to give you the benefits that you expected.

The difference between a good and a bad hearing aid solution is not usually the aid itself, since most aids are made by a handful of manufacturers. It's more to do with the professional fit and service given by the provider. Hearing aids are only as good as the expertise of the dispensing audiologist.

Keith Donaghy is an independent hearing aid audiologist with over 28 years experience of prescribing hearing aid systems in the Oxfordshire area. A consultation with him is FREE and he will happily help and advise you which, if necessary, hearing system will suit your lifestyle and budget the best. All with no obligation, what have you got to lose?

Book a free hearing consultation today either in Witney or Banbury or in the comfort of your own home.

Should I have my hearing checked?

Keith Donaghy R.H.A.D., F.S.H.A.A. has the answers.

Just like eyes and teeth, it is recommended that hearing is checked once a year or certainly if someone thinks that their hearing is diminishing. All hearing tests and consultations are free at Keith Donaghy Hearingcare.

How do I detect a change in my hearing?

It is difficult because the deterioration is often gradual, so hearing needs to be checked regularly by a professional. Friends and relatives may tell you that you are not hearing properly or you may find that the television etc. needs to be turned up for you to hear it.

When do I need to use a hearing aid?

If you have a significant loss in your hearing then a new digital hearing aid system will bring your hearing back to as near normal as possible. There are many digital systems available on the market and generally speaking the more sophisticated the system the more expensive it is.

How much do hearing aids cost?

When investing in a hearing aid system you are not just purchasing hearing aids but also the aftercare package so it is important to consider what the standard of help and advice is available when you start wearing your new hearing aids. At Keith Donaghy Hearingcare prices start from £950.00 for a pair of the latest digital technology hearing aids which includes the initial hearing test, fitting and complete aftercare package. Because Keith Donaghy is local patients rarely wait more than a few days before they can see him.

How long do hearing aids last?

All hearing aids come with a 2 year manufacturers guarantee. Providing that the hearing aids system is cleaned and serviced regularly it will last for 6 to 8 years. However many people change their system after 3 to 4 years usually because they want to use the latest technology available.

The Producers all-star cast

AN all-star cast at the New Theatre Oxford will bring 'The Producers' to life next week.

Jason Manford and Ross Noble will be flying the flags for British comedy in the musical, based on Mel Brooks' award-winning film.

They will be joined by American actors Cory English and David Bedella and theatre actress Tiffany Graves for the satirical comedy that will see New York producer Max Bialystock (Cory English) and Leo Bloom (Jason Manford) try and pull off one of the greatest scams Broadway has ever seen.

Despite being used to having the stage all to himself, Jason Manford is looking forward to his visit to the George Street venue.

"I've not been onstage and felt unsure or not confident for over 15 years - I'm not used to being on a stage outside of my comfort zone," he said.

"Sometimes I spend so much time alone doing comedy that the audience is the first people I speak to all day, but this is an absolute delight."

The movie, written and directed by Brooks in 1968, made it's Broadway debut in 2001 and it's British bow three years later.

Now 11 years on, the musical is still going strong.

It is coming to the end of a four month tour across the UK.

The show's stop in Oxford will be the last in England before heading to Ireland on July 6.

David Bedella said: "I don't think anyone can watch the show and not want to be a part of it - it's so much fun."

"So the chance to be involved in this show is a dream for me."

He added: "I grew up in the US during the 1960s and Brooks was a big part of a group of writers that also included Sid Casar and Carl Reiner who influenced my childhood."

Tiffany Graves, the show's only female performer, added: "Rehearsing this show with so many comedians means I've never been in a room with so many people sparring off each other before. They know exactly what they're all doing."

The show runs from June 29 to July 4 and start at 2.30pm for matinee or 7.30pm for the evening performance.

Tickets start from £17.90 to £46.60.

Abba Mania

THROWBACK hits 'Dancing Queen,' and 'Mamma Mia' will be back when Abba Mania makes its way to the New Theatre Oxford on Friday, June 26.

The West End show is on a UK tour which ends on July 25 in Darlington.

Tickets cost from £14.50 to £21.40 with the George Street production starting at 7.30pm.

McEnroe

WITH Wimbledon fever building up, a production of Beating McEnroe will be at Oxford Playhouse on Friday, July 3.

Canadian country music

CANADIAN Folk Music Awards nominee Sarah Jane Scouten will make her way to The Bullingdon pub in Oxford on Canada Day next Wednesday, July 1.

The singer-songwriter was in the running for 'Traditional Singer of the Year' and the 'Traditional Album of the Year' at last year's ceremony.

Her nominated album 'The Cape' lost out to Còig's album 'Five', whilst the 'Traditional Singer of the Year' award went to Mélisande.

But Sarah Jane was not disheartened not to clinch the top spot.

"It was an honour. I'm so proud of The Cape and I'm glad it was so well received by my musical community," Sarah told the Guardian.

"I thought, 'traditional? All right, I'll take it'.

"Not one of those songs are traditional, but I see where they were going with that."

Prepare to be moved when the Montreal musician heads to Cowley Road.

"I love making people laugh more than anything, yet, it's almost the same reaction when they get sad, or even cry," she said.

"I don't want to be manipulative, but it's kind of my job to elicit feelings

By James Richings

jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

in others."

During her student days Sarah Jane spent a spell in Wales studying philosophy at Cardiff University as part of a foreign exchange, and last year spent time travelling around Britain as part of a three-piece band.

Now a UK regular, she remembers her first trip to Britain with amusement.

"I was 19 years old and was quaking in my boots," she said.

"I had been waiting for the day to get on an airplane and see all the places where history took place, but just before I got on the plane my brother said to me, 'What if it's all just an elaborate backdrop? What if all the buildings are make-believe and the UK is nothing but endless strip malls?'

"I contemplated that possibility for 11 hours and I was possibly the most relieved person to ever lay eyes on Westminster Abbey."

Sarah Jane added that she is looking forward to her first Oxford show.

"I was a big fan (and still am) of the

Rob Lowe movie 'Oxford Blues' when I was a kid and have a lot of fun running around the university," she said. "Also, my grandfather went to Oxford before switching to Cambridge for philosophy. It's dripping in history."

Coincidentally, Sarah's performance at The Bullingdon will be on Canada Day.

It starts at 7pm and costs £11.

Movie makes Oxford debut

A FEATURE film inspired by the 2001 Foot and Mouth crisis will make its UK cinematic debut at the Phoenix Picturehouse in Oxford on Tuesday before hitting screens across the country a day later.

'Blood Cells', a road movie directed by Joseph Bulland and Luke Seomore, follows a man called Adam (Barry Ward) who is cast away from his family

By James Richings

jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

to some of the most eerie and forgotten parts of Great Britain.

"The 2001 Foot and Mouth epidemic was something that resonated with us, the outbreak started near where we grew up in Essex and those images were so powerful," Luke told the Guardian.

"The huge pyres, the charred outlines of thousands of dead cattle they had this hypnotic, biblical quality to them.

"The September 11 attacks historically overshadowed these events, but those images kept in our minds."

Joseph added: "We wanted to make a British road movie, which is usually a genre associated with American cinema and literature, but to use these perimeters and rules in a British context."

Critics of 'Blood Cells' have given the new film an average score of 7.4 out of 10 from 27 reviews on IMDb (Internet Movie Database), despite a budget of €200,000.

Luke added: "When we were in Napoli, a woman in the audience asked Joseph when the sequel will be released.

"She really wanted to know what happened to Adam after the film ended, but I think it's more interesting imagined in the audience's mind rather than actually telling that story."

Barry Ward, who plays the protagonist said: "This is hugely exciting.

• Barry Ward as Adam waits for the all clear before shooting a scene

"We made the film for €200,000 (I believe) and for a movie of this size to get such attention and wide distribution is extremely rare, and testimony to the talent and dedication of all involved. We are all very proud."

The film has a rating of 15. The screening starts at 6.15pm. Tickets for the Walton Street venue cost £8 to £10. 'Blood Cells' will also be available on DVD in August.

• Barry Ward and directors Luke Seomore and Joseph Bull discuss the next take

"What's more is that the 308 GTi is a symbol of the brand's dynamism and upmarket shift."

signed door sills to give the car a more aggressive look.

While the new rear design features a gloss-black section housing the twin exhaust pipes.

And the door sill carries the GTi and Peugeot Sport signature and is finished in aluminum.

The same material is used on the pedals, foot rest and gear knob.

With a wider track of 1,570mm at the front and 1,554mm at the rear, the 308 GTi has been engineered for strong grip.

GTi 250 versions will come with Michelin Pilot Sport 3 tyres on 'Diamond' alloy wheels.

Oxfordshire's friendliest family owned and run garage

P Bruno Car Repairs and independent business, established in 1989 are still going strong despite many small garages closing over the last 25 years. When Mr Pasquale Bruno was unfortunately made redundant from an Oxford based Plant Hire Company, he saw an opportunity and seized it with both hands. During the trying time of 'Black Monday' back in October 1987 when the stock exchange collapsed and caused the Dow Jones industrial average to fall by 22.6%. This was a worse collapse than back in 1929. Then followed the early 1990's recession, which was officially the longest in British History since the Great Depression 60 years before.

So, Pas, as he is known dusted himself off and took a brave step to set up his own business and P Bruno Motor Repairs was born. He first began working from home, then progressed and moved in 2004 to In Between Towns Road, Cowley until 2006. The family run business is well known for being Oxfordshire's friendliest family owned garage. Even Pas's daughters have worked at the garage at one time or other, so it really has been a family affair.

The business went from strength to strength and eventually outgrew the Cowley premises, so then came the move to Bottom Yard, Oakfield Industrial Estate, Stanton Harcourt Road, Eynsham back in 2007 where the business remains to date.

Pas's goal is to achieve every customer's complete satisfaction and to maintain your vehicle economically and to the highest standards. The premises is within easy reach for Oxford, Witney, Abingdon and Woodstock areas and they also pride themselves on offering a local collection and delivery service.

Appointments can be arranged to fit in with customers busy schedules, which always helps having a garage do their level best to make things easier for you. The workshop has full diagnostic and fault finding equipment and dedicated Asian vehicle diagnostic tools, so they can soon get to the bottom of any hidden problems. The Company is part of GROUPAUTO UK & IRELAND and are fully compliant to their code of practice. Other services available are Servicing & Repairs, MOT Testing, Tyres, Exhausts, Brakes, Steering Wheel Alignment, Suspension and Comprehensive Air Conditioning Services. They also offer to their customers a garden machinery repair service.

All the staff are trained to the highest standards and all hold a current City & Guilds certificate, they also attend regular courses to keep them up to date with current developments in the motor industry.

Our current offers include servicing, repairs and MOT testing. All prices shown include parts, labour + VAT and we will not carry out any other work without first providing a quote. We will also advise you of any further work that your car may need in the future, allowing you to manage your personal budget successfully.

For further details of all current offers visit the website on www.pbruno.co.uk or call 01865 883413.

Double delight as United commits to their youth

OXFORD United have reaffirmed their commitment to youth with the club's promising youngsters, Sam Humphreys and Sam Long, signing new deals with the club.

United's 19-year-old winger Humphreys, who signed a one-year deal yesterday, is highly regarded by the club and made his first team debut for United in the final game of last season, coming on in the final 10 minutes against Newport.

Bicester-born centre-back Long, 20, made his Oxford debut back in 2013 against Accrington Stanley in April 2013 and featured 10 times for United last season, mainly as a right back.

Long also scored his first goal for United last season as he headed in a Callum O'Dowda corner in a 3-2 defeat to Southend United in January.

Humphreys, from Chipping Norton, said: "I'm an Oxford boy and have been with the club since I was young, so it feels really good to sign a new contract here."

"I've been doing a lot of work in the off-season and hopefully I'll be flying come pre-season. Long said after signing a two-year deal on Tuesday: "It was a straightforward decision. It's been a long summer trying to sort it out but I'm happy now."

"I'm going to come back and work as hard as I can to give myself the best possible chance to get in the starting line-up."

"I can't wait to get back into pre-season."

United also issued a statement last Friday that defender Chey Dunkley has admitted breaching the FA's anti-doping regulations after testing positive for salbutamol after using an inhaler prescribed for his asthma.

However, the FA agreed that Dunkley had no intentions to use the medicine to enhance his sporting performance.

The 23-year-old was issued a warning and reprimand and will be subject to target testing for a period of two years.

The statement read: "Chey suffers from asthma and was not aware of the restriction on salbutamol use. As a club, we accept the FA ruling."

Welsh sign on new duo

LONDON Welsh have continued to strengthen their side as they prepare for their return to the Championship with the signings of Montauban's Brendon Snyman and Saracen's Thretton Palamo.

South-African Snyman, 30, who plays second row, has joined after his recent stint in the Pro D2 where he played a role in securing Montauban's tenth-place finish.

American Palamo, 26, who plays centre, and has been capped for the USA Eagles five times, will join The Exiles on a season-long loan following the culmination of the Rugby World Cup.

London Welsh director of rugby, Steve Lewis, said: "We are delighted to have secured the services of Brendon and Thretton."

"Brendon will add a real competitive edge to our forward pack and Thretton is an exciting talent that once he became available, I had no hesitation in pursuing this opportunity."

Snyman is 6ft 7in, weighs in at 122kg and can also play at number eight.

Palamo made his international debut as a 19-year-old in the 2007 Rugby World Cup and also represented Samoa at under-19 level.

Thousands sign up for half-marathon

MORE than 4,500 runners have already signed up to take on the Vitality Oxford Half Marathon this October.

This year sees the runners take on a more city-orientated route, and race organisers GO2 have now confirmed that thousands are set to try out the new course.

GO2's head of marketing Jamie Warren said: "We are very excited that the runners appear to love the new route as much as we do, with a huge uptake of entries."

The organisers are urging for runners to sign up as soon as possible and Jamie believes that the race is not just for those that run regularly.

He added: "This race is for everyone, those looking to keep fit, those looking for a challenge to raise money for charity or simply to have as much fun as you can."

The new 13.1-mile route has been designed by taking into account the racing experience of both the runner and the spectators.

The organisers claim the race provides the perfect course profile for runners to find a good rhythm.

Any budding runners can sign up for the run at oxfordhalf.co.uk.

Tricky start for Welsh

LONDON Welsh returned to the training pitch for the start of pre-season on Monday as the fixtures for the Greene King IPA Championship were announced.

The Exiles will first take on Doncaster Knights before facing off against beaten play-off finalists Bristol.

The first round of fixtures are due to take place between September 4 and 6, and Rowland Phillips is eager to get some points on the board.

He said: "It's really good to be back, we haven't been away for too long and we've got a pretty tight group here to get started from day one."

"We have to be mentally, physically and tactically prepared for what is going to be a really tough season."

"We've got to make sure that we've got the confidence and the belief that this is a winning team."

Phillips isn't reflecting on the Exiles' dismal Premiership campaigned last season where they lost every single game, and is more focused on the weeks ahead.

"We're not dwelling on it and there are things from last season that we've learnt that are positive - we learnt a lot of things about each other."

"We got the chance to see what people are like under pressure and we showed we were competitive up to a point."

The Exiles' head coach isn't deterred by his side's tough start and believes that his side can prosper in the 'tricky' openers.

He added: "When you look at the teams in this league, you can look at our first two games and know it'll be tricky."

"Doncaster and Bristol will be focused and ready and they'll see as an opportunity to take a scalp."

Phillips also believes that the squad is now fully formed for the new season and that the Welsh have the right players on board to succeed after recruiting 15 players for the new season.

He concluded: "Our recruitment's gone well; we've strengthened the areas we've needed to with a lot of quality, but a good squad doesn't guarantee anything."

We've got to work hard."

Chapman looks to nail first podium finish

OXFORD'S 15-year-old rapid youngster Matt Chapman has his eyes on securing a podium breakthrough when he takes to the Croft Circuit in North Yorkshire this weekend.

Chapman is currently in 11th position in the championship as it heads into the half season break, and the Total Control Racing driver is eager to start his weekend on form.

It is the driver's second year in the Ginetta Junior Championship and after gaining a seventh place finish at Oulton Park earlier this month, Chapman is aiming to finally make it up on the podium.

The young driver said: "I can't wait for Croft, I really enjoy the track and we know we're quick there so the hope is that we can make a real push for our first podium."

"It's one of my favourite circuits as it has a good mix of fast sections and more technical corners."

Chapman also paid tribute to his team as he prepares to get back in the car for pre-event testing tomorrow, before rounds nine and 10 get away on the Sunday.

He added: "The guys have done a great job with the car, it's been fantastic to drive all year and we've just been a bit unlucky up to now. I'm sure come Sunday, we will deliver."

Oxford head to showers early against Harefield

OXFORD'S basement battle with Harefield couldn't avoid the rain as the teams headed in for the showers early on Sunday after the match was abandoned in the Serious Cricket Home Counties Premier League.

A strong performance in front of the wickets established a foothold of 198-7 for the home side, despite the loss of Ryan Carters and Stewart Laudat in the first over.

Harefield's main danger man Chamu Chibhabha was lethal for the away side from the off as his delivery was caught by skipper Simon Macey off Carter's knock.

Chibhabha then left Oxford reeling as he took Laudat with his next delivery as Doug King got the catch.

Oxford's Sean Thornton and Vishane Perera got the ball rolling for Oxford, though Harefield looked likely for the win with Oxford at 67-5.

Perera managed to hold firm and alongside Alex Morgan they managed to hold the sixth wicket, securing 104 runs for Oxford.

Morgan fell to Chibhabha for 40 before Doug King's delivery led to Perera's departure off a Jalpesh Vijay catch.

Following a quick cameo from Simon, Oxford headed into bowl and made a solid start as Will Rooney's delivery led to Simon Macey being caught out.

Rooney's delivery then led to Vijay being caught from Carters and Chibhabha stepped in to bat just as the rain started pouring down.

Oxford remain bottom of the Division One table, nine points off Harefield.

Lethal batting from Oxon in testing Dorset contest

OXFORDSHIRE'S opening tussle with Dorset proved productive for the home side with Lloyd Sabin making the difference with a fine performance on Sunday.

Sabin was a dynamic force for Oxon as he hit 70 for his side that took 345 from being all out.

Andy Harris and Chad Keegan were also on top form as they restricted Dorset to 50-2.

Hugo Darby and Michael Beard got the ball rolling for Oxon with the opening partnership stand of 101, before Luke Ryan and Johnny Carter added the gloss to proceedings, hitting 57 and 50 runs respectively.

It wasn't until the 37th over that Oxfordshire finally lost a man as Darby was dismissed though Oxford's determination saw them hit back with Sabin and Cater laying siege to the Dorset boundaries.

All-rounder Keegan was a huge presence on the field and smacked four boundaries within his first four minutes in front of the wickets.

By the time Oxon's Will Rooney went out for a duck with his side on 345, they were left with 18 overs to bowl and Dorset took to bat.

The away side weren't able to make a dent as they knocked 50 off the 18 overs, with Masor Khan striking 25 before he was bowled by Keegan in the 16th over.

Oxford suffer damaging Welsh blow

OXFORD RL's impressive home form was brought to an end as the North Wales Crusaders swept them aside in a pummeling 36-12 defeat at Iffley Road.

The away side came out of the blocks pumped and Jamie Dalimore got them started as he zigzagged through the Oxford defence to make it 6-0.

In the 28th minute, the Crusaders once again found their way through Oxford's back line and Craig White darted through a gap for a 12-0 score.

A simple dummy then put Dalimore through again, with Scott Turner converting all three tries for 18-0.

Oxford kept making rookie errors and the Crusaders' Benjamin Jullien spotted a gap before half-time and crossed after a 30 metre run.

The Crusaders just kept on going and it was no surprise when Rob Massam went over in the corner for a 30-0 scoreline to the visitors.

Oxford's Dean Mignacca sparked his team to life and the Blues looked to guide through the Crusaders' defence with quick passing and Vila Halafhi dived over on 61 minutes.

Nathan Kitson then added a second for the home side as he exploited the Crusaders defence to dive over from short range for a 30-12 score.

However, the Crusaders weren't finished and Tommy Johnson sealed the win for the away team, converting his own try.

Quartet's fight

GOLF: Four Oxfordshire golfers are bidding for Gleneagles glory as they are one step from competing in the Lombard Trophy final this summer.

North Oxford Golf Club's Mark Cooper and Lee Jackson, in addition to Didcot's Hadden Hill Golf Club's Mark Ford and Thomas Hartley, are one match away from the final at PGA Centenary Course, Gleneagles on September 1 and 2.

Ford and Harley will compete at Coventry Golf Club in their regional final on July 20, whilst Cooper and Jackson head to Royal Ashdown Gold Club on July 20.

Club award

RUGBY: Gosford All-Blacks Rugby Club have been short-listed for 'club of the year' at this year's National Rugby Awards.

The club, based near Kidlington, secured third place in the BB&Q Premier division last season.

They will go up against six other nominees at the awards ceremony, which will be held at Twickenham Stadium in a ceremony on September 2.

Bicester back

FOOTBALL: Bicester Town have been given a place in the Hellenic League Division 1 East in their first competitive season in four years.

TOWN SECURE 'SUPERB' STAR GOAL MACHINE

• Didcot Town have signed their replacement for star striker John Mills (picture by Roger Neal)

DIDCOT Town have moved to replace star scorer John Mills with the signing of former North Leigh star Conor McDonagh.

The 22-year-old has joined the club for the season after moving back to the Oxford area and spent last season at Ossett Town in North Yorkshire.

The Diddy moved to secure McDonagh after joint-manager Ian Concannon admitted that he used to 'tear them apart' when McDonagh was North Leigh's star goal scorer.

Concannon told the Guardian: "We are absolutely delighted to seal his capture. He is very strong, a great footballer and has had a superb footballing education."

McDonagh came through the Oxford United academy before heading to rivals Oxford City for a stint at Marsh Lane.

Concannon said: "He used to tear us apart when he was at North Leigh and make no mistake, this kid is a born goal-scorer."

"I do believe that he could be the player to get us the goals

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

that we need to push us higher up the table."

The news follows the announcement last week that John Mills is set to depart the club to a higher league which is a blow to The Diddy after he netted 57 goals for them last season to propel them to a seventh-place finish.

McDonagh's capture follows the signings of Banbury United defender Marvin Martin and goalkeeper Leigh Bedwell.

Didcot Town begin their pre-season today with the club set to start the new season come August 8.

Their opening day opponent has not been announced but Concannon is feeling confident that that the club will be in a good position come game day.

He said: "We've all had a good break and we are going to hit the ground running, fully refreshed and ready to go."

"Me and (co-manager) Jamie are eager to get started, we can't wait."

Concannon also confirmed that the club are not yet finished with transfer dealings and could make another signing shortly.
